Call for Paper

\(Download CFP as PDF\)

The topics addressed by CRiSIS range from the analysis of risks, attacks to networks and system survivability, to security models, security mechanisms and privacy enhancing technologies. The authors are invited to submit research results as well as practical experiment or deployment reports. Industrial papers about applications or case studies are also welcomed in different domains (e.g., telemedicine, banking, e-government, e-learning, e-commerce, critical infrastructures, mobile networks, embedded applications, etc.). The list of topics includes but is not limited to:

- Analysis and management of risk
- Attacks and defenses
- Attack data acquisition and network monitoring
- Cryptography, Biometrics, Watermarking
- Dependability and fault tolerance of Internet applications
- Distributed systems security
- Embedded system security
- Empirical methods for security and risk evaluation
- Hardware-based security and Physical security
- Intrusion detection and Prevention systems
- Organizational, ethical and legal issues
- Privacy protection and anonymization
- Risk-aware access and usage control
- Security and risk assessment
- Security and risks metrics
- Security and dependability of operating systems
- Security and safety of critical infrastructures
- Security and privacy of peer-to-peer system
- Security and privacy of wireless networks

- Security models and security policies
- Security of new generation networks, security of VoIP and multimedia
- Security of e-commerce, electronic voting and database systems
- Security of social networks
- Smartphone security and privacy
- Traceability, metrology and forensics
- Trust management
- Use of smartcards and personal devices for Internet applications
- Web and cloud security

Paper submission

Submitted papers must not substantially overlap with papers that have been published or that are simultaneously submitted to a journal or a conference with proceedings. Papers must be written in English and must be submitted electronically in PDF format.

The papers that will be selected for presentation at the conference will be included in post-proceedings published by Springer in the Lecture Notes in Computer Science \(LNCS\) series (prior to publication the papers should be revised according to the review comments). Pre-proceedings will appear at the time of the conference.

Maximum paper length will be 16 printed pages for full papers or 6 pages for short papers, in LNCS style (<http://www.springer.de/comp/lncs/authors.html>). Authors of accepted papers must guarantee that their papers will be presented at the conference. All paper submissions will be handled through the Easy Chair conference management system: <https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=crisis2016>.

Call for Tutorials

We solicit tutorials on state-of-the-art technologies relevant to the conference themes. We are particularly interested in tutorials that foster knowledge exchange among the different research communities present at the conference. The intended length of each tutorial is 2 to 3 hours.

A tutorial proposal should include a brief summary and outline, specific goals and objectives, the intended audience and the expected background of the audience as well as a biographical sketch of the presenter(s). The length of tutorial proposals should not exceed 5 pages.

Tutorial proposals should be submitted to the tutorial program chair:

Esma Aimeur by email :
aimeur[at]iro[dot]umontreal[dot]ca before June xx, 2016.
